Introduction

The issue of education was considered a priority in all times. Especially today, he places great responsibility on parents and pedagogues. After all, young people with strong faith, knowledge, and physical health are the guarantee of the great future of the country.

Approaching life from a new political and economic point of view requires reconsideration of the process of education of the growing young generation. In organizing the educational process, first of all, it is necessary to deeply understand the nature of the changes and reforms taking place in the socio-political, economic and cultural spheres of the society. Therefore, in different periods of the historical development of human society, the approach to personal education changes both in content and form. Our President Sh. As Mirziyoyev said, there is no doubt that the funds spent today in the field of education and science will serve as a solid foundation for the formation of the young generation, the owner of the future of our country, a society with high intellectual potential. Honorable President Shavkat Mirziyoyev also said in one of his speeches, "What will trouble you from me?" If you ask, I will answer that it is the education and upbringing of our children.

Material and Research Methods (Materials and Methods)

The 21st century remains the "computer era" in human history. This requires deciding on a unique approach to educating a person. However, no matter how rapidly science and technology develops, takes an important place in the life of society, and how effectively it affects the acceleration of production processes, in the theory of education, it is necessary to fully educate an individual, relying on the advanced ideas of Central Asian thinkers, folk pedagogy and world pedagogy in this regard. must see.

Human qualities such as spiritual and moral purity, faith, honesty, religion, honor, kindness, respect for the elderly, which play an important role in the development of a person, are not formed by themselves. They are based on the content, ideological direction and effect of the education and training of the young generation, which is carried out in the family, general secondary, special secondary, vocational and higher education systems. By its nature, the process of education has a multifactorial character. That is, the determination of the child's personality takes place under the direct and indirect influences of the family, educational institution, community, social environment, as well as a variety of situations.

A new approach to the organization of important components of social education - mental, spiritual-ethical, physical, work, aesthetic, legal, ecological, economic, sexual education for the growing young generation to become a complete human being in accordance with the requirements of the times, the development of ways of their effective organization is of particular importance. These are the most important tasks in education.

Currently, additional educational institutions are operating in the republic in order not to alienate students from educational institutions. In additional educational institutions, students can master private subjects and foreign languages, acquire knowledge in technical and artistic directions, acquire practical skills and qualifications. Meetings, exhibitions, tours, discussions on various subjects and topics organized in additional educational institutions play an important role in enriching the thinking of students, forming a strong character and will in them.

Results and its Discussion

The following tasks are being solved in the process of educating the young generation in our country:

- 1) preparing young people for social life, instilling in them a broad outlook, purposeful approach to their personal life, awakening a sense of unity of plan and action;
- 2) to educate students about the essence of national and universal values, to educate young people with deep knowledge and thinking, to enrich their minds;
- 3) to understand the essence of universal moral norms (humanity, humility, mutual help, love, kindness, support of customs, humanitarianism, hatred of immorality, etc.), to achieve in students a sense of manners and high culture;
- 4) instilling in students a sense of respect for legal and moral norms and a sense of citizenship, responsibility for social duty;
- 5) formation of responsibility for nature protection, creation of ecological balance;
- 6) to form a sense of patriotism and internationalism, to respect other nations and peoples, to establish a sense of not discriminating against their rights and duties;
- 7) learning to correctly and objectively assess the internal and external policy of the independent state - the Republic of Uzbekistan;
- 8) valuing a person as a supreme value, teaching to respect his honor, dignity, value, rights and duties, etc. These are the general tasks of social education in the republic.

Conclusions

In conclusion, it should be noted that education is the path that leads the nation to the future, it is an unquenchable light. It is known that child education is formed on the basis of the following three important concepts: Generation, family and environment. Pedagogical scientist Makarenko says: "Education means transferring the experience, passion, and faith of the older generation to the younger generation." We must never neglect the morals and upbringing of the young generation, prevent the influence of foreign ideas on their spirituality, and educate them without losing their identity in order for our country to flourish and rise. a must And in this case, we must respect the personality of the student, show him the right way and treat him nicely. The reason is that the secret of successful education is to be able to show respect and trust to the student.

Achievements in the path of development are visible not only in the indicators of economic and political growth, but also in the moral and mental mood of people. In all eras, there were selfless people, ardent patriots, those who thought a lot about the fate of the nation and the country, those who were worried, who sought new opportunities for national independence and tried to implement them. Such people are not born patriots, their faith and belief is formed in the process of education. Love and faith in the Motherland was the basis of practical activity in all those who sacrificed their lives for the nation and the country. Such figures as Behbudi, Fitrat, Cholpon, Abdulla Avloni, Tavallo, Abdulla Qadiri were not only enlightened, but also primarily patriots. They thought about the interests and prospects of the country and the people, even if they lost their comfort and peace.
